Stay Ahead: Academy Integration Updates

Building on last month's update, we are thrilled to announce that you can get certified in the Integration track now. The certification exam is officially live and available for scheduling through Pearson VUE.

To support your success, we have also launched the Academy Integration Update site—a dedicated hub designed to keep you informed of the latest developments within our integration courses.

Why it matters: Content covered in these videos may be included in the certification exam

How to access: Please note that access is restricted to eligible participants; those qualified will be contacted directly with further instructions.

Use case: Data Warehousing

Say clients have a need for access to large amounts of ACP data, both current and historical, and the ability to query this data to produce reports, dashboards and KPI information. What would be the recommended Avaloq integration product for that client?

The Integration Use Case course's new topic answers exactly that!
