Accreditation rules

Avaloq’s development team is constantly improving and releasing new features to the Avaloq Banking Suite. The Academy’s accreditation programme makes renewing your professional certification easy.

Every ACCP certificate is valid for two years. And to keep your certificates valid, you need to earn accreditation points. 120 accreditation points are equal to four course days. Two of these must be Delta courses, and the other two can be any accreditation courses of your choice (electives).

Social impact

“Simplicity means to choose ways of living that touch the Earth more lightly and that reduce our ecological footprint.” - Duane Elgin

Avaloq is committed to doing business responsibly. As part of our strategy to reduce our carbon emissions to zero, we have decided to no longer provide a hard copy of the course materials.

Course participants will get access to our learning platform prior to the course and can download the material from there. This also facilitates self-study which is beneficial for course preparation. Also, you will receive your certificates electronically.

With this simple change, you can contribute to a much bigger initiative.
